

What's your secret?

Music & lyrics: Kim Walker

Everybody's got a secret they keep smuggled inside;
A secret big or small something that's better to hide.
Everybody keeps some space from what they think and they say;
But your face tells me that space is getting bigger each day!

What's your secret? Everybody's got a secret honey.
What's your secret?
What's your secret? What's your dirty little secret baby?
What's your secret?

A secret may be promised and is not always bad;
Maybe better left unsaid than make someone we love feel sad.
I don't wanna know your secret but just gimme the truth;
If your secret is that someone else means more to you!

What's your secret? Everybody's got a secret honey.
What's your secret?
What's your secret? What's your dirty little secret baby?
What's your secret?

Secrets can save lives, can be hopes or our dreams.
What's your secret honey are you all that you seem?
You say you tell me everything and make your point clear;
But it's the things you don't wanna tell me that I'm curious to hear!

I don't wanna know your password or to check on your calls;
Your privacy is sacred, I'd be breakin' some laws.
But I think you're hidin' something if I hear I'll regret;
So I can't resist the urge to ask you 'what's your secret'?

What's your secret? Everybody's got a secret honey.
What's your secret?
What's your secret? What's your dirty little secret baby?
What's your secret?
